

The Leader in Identity Management for K-12 Educators

The migration to cloud services gives school districts a contemporary and consistent education enterprise solution.

With over ten years of focused experience, hundreds of K-12 installations, and over 10 million students, parents, and staff using RapidIdentity, Identity Automation is the undisputed leader in Identity and Access Management for educators.

Today more than ever, educators require advanced technology to succeed in their growingly complex missions. America's school districts are under tremendous pressure to increase student performance under state and federal mandate, and parents increasingly expect to be deeply involved in the student experience.

Many districts are modernizing their classrooms and curricula. Textbooks and chalkboards are being digitized; web-based education apps and student computers mobile devices are the future. As more learning occurs online, ensuring student data privacy becomes an increasingly critical mission. All of this is happening at a time of tight budget constraints, with school administrators looking for ways to accomplish more with less.

We know the unique challenges K-12 schools and school districts face better than anyone, and we've built the software that best equips educators to succeed.
